

A child remains in the custody of a father in Howard County, Maryland against whom he has constantly filed complaints with school officials, police and cps.

Multiple documents of abuse and ill treatment have been filed against the father and corroborated by police and cps officials. However, as the mother is referred to as "soft", not adequately tough on the child - "not making a man out of him", the child's contact with the mother is eliminated by the complete controls of the father, Jason Bouma, whom has declared "I own Howard County".

Extensive documentation related to judicial, legal and cps abuse has been sent to the new governor Larry Hogan. The abuse/murder case of three year old Elijah Lajeunesse has also been sent to Elijah's criminal attorney..... Who is allegedly supposed to be seeking to bring charges against" child protective services for reputedly allowing Elijah to remain in contact with his mother and her boyfriend whom had been charged with causing Elijah to sustain third/fourth degree burns to his feet as per their direct actions/punishment.

The same inept, indifferent cps department of Howard county Maryland has been responsible for Elijah's death and the prolonged suffering of Jase Bouma, maintained in the custody of that Howard County cps agency.

Governor Larry Hogan's office was contacted again today 4/20/2015 to inquire as to whether or not actions have been taken to investigate the death of Elijah Lajeunesse or to re-open the case for investigation of alleged racketeering activity occurring between judges, lawyer, mental health workers in the Howard County Maryland.

Complaints of racketeering funded by wealthy business man Jason Bouma have consistently been charged as having funded the illegal activity which hides the suspected lies and larceny of Jason Bouma, father of Jase Bouma held to maintain secrets of the suspected crimes of his father.
