NOTE:

THE FACTS AND EVENTS REFERRED TO IN THIS CASE ARE COMPLETELY DOCUMENTED

Protective parents all over the world have experienced Court Ordered Abduction of children they were seeking to protect from an obsessed abuser. However, they did not expect to become alienated from the country they called their home, the US.

An unexpected trip to go to the bedside of a seriously ill mother/grandmother in The Netherlands occasioned a stunning revelation from the child..... "With an ocean between us, I feel safe" said Jasmijn. Shattering admissions placed in motion events that would change the mother/child, family dynamic and lead to placing the US and International court system on notice that covering for, and enabling child abuse and neglect in all forms will not be tolerated.

The detailed, completely documented experience of one woman's struggle to protect her child is exceptional. Geerte Frenken lost her child through the court ordered abduction of courts in the US and the Netherlands.

The saga of this protective parent's journey covers two continents, multiple government agencies, exhaustive evidence and actions subjecting the child and protective parent to an ultimate, unconscionable betrayal at the hands of judges and attorneys.
