The Tyranny Of Tyrants – When Predators Are In Possession

The power afforded to court empowerment of predators whom have gained a foothold of credibility with a court creates an enormous obstacle to Protective Parents.

When Truth has not reached the bar of credibility of the lies put forth by Predators whose uncanny capacity for compelling manipulation of facts, using those distorted projectiles against the free speech which is needed to defend the Protective Parent and child, the power of court orders and piling on of false documents that build on the original lie, create a challenge to the ability to unwind the lies. The challenge is extraordinarily difficult, but not impossible. The challenge is not for the faint of heart, shy, easily demoralized, but for those who look at the machination presented and engage in the chess game of strategy to victory.

One must take each presentation of lies, character assassination, public shaming, to confront the facts through filing whatever legal interventions exist, to write about the process of enmeshment by the predator preserving position, to engage the community of those with harmonious interests and experience to explain, describe, educate the public and by extension the courts. Teaching, studying, speaking out to shed light on the process of predators in possession pursuing their position, trampling the rights of all in their path is a process that must be deeply understood, identified in order to create the mechanisms necessary to, with surgical precision, move against the ability of obsessed abusers to have their way because of the energy of self preservation and gratification that drives their obsession.
